

FUTURE TENSE

Dialogue 1

Context: Taking The Bus

Alex: Hey Sonny, have you heard about the new plans for public transportation in England?

Sonny: No, what's happening?

Alex: Well, they are going to introduce more buses and trains in the coming years.

Sonny: That's great news! It will make it easier for people to get around.

Alex: Yes, exactly. They are also planning to improve the existing infrastructure.

Sonny: That's fantastic. I hope they build more train stations too.

Alex: They will! In fact, they have already announced the construction of several new stations.

Sonny: That's going to be so convenient. I won't have to rely on my car anymore.

Alex: Absolutely. Public transportation will become a more reliable option.

Sonny: Do you think they will also increase the frequency of buses and trains?

Alex: Yes, that's part of the plan. They want to reduce waiting times.

Sonny: That's what we need. Quick and frequent services will encourage more people to use public transportation.

Alex: I agree. It will help reduce traffic congestion and air pollution.

Sonny: Will they also make public transportation more affordable?

Alex: Yes, they are considering lowering the fares to make it accessible to everyone.

Sonny: That's a smart move. Many people will find it more affordable than driving.

Alex: Definitely. And it will also benefit the environment by reducing carbon emissions.

Sonny: I'm really excited about these changes. It will make our lives so much easier.

Alex: Me too, Sonny. It's great to see the government investing in public transportation.

Sonny: I hope they complete the projects on time.

Alex: They have set clear deadlines, so let's hope they stick to them.

Sonny: I can't wait to see the improvements. It will be a game-changer for everyone.

Alex: I couldn't agree more. Our cities will become more accessible and sustainable.

Sonny: Let's keep an eye on the news for updates on the progress.

Alex: Definitely. I'm looking forward to a future with better public transportation in England.

Dialogue 2

Context: Taking The Bus

Emily: Hey Claire, have you heard about the new bus service in our neighborhood?

Claire: No, I haven't. What's so special about it?

Emily: Well, it's going to be really convenient. They're adding more routes and improving the schedule.

Claire: That sounds great! When will the new service start?

Emily: It will start next Monday. I think we should try it out.

Claire: That's a good idea. What time does the bus leave in the morning?

Emily: The first bus will leave at 7:00 a.m. and then there will be one every half hour.

Claire: Perfect! And what about the return trip? Will there be buses in the evening too?

Emily: Yes, they will have buses until 10:00 p.m., so we won't have to worry about getting back home late.

Claire: That's really convenient. How much will the bus tickets cost?

Emily: The tickets will cost $2 for a single ride. They also have a monthly pass for $30, which is a good deal if we plan to use it often.

Claire: I think I'll get the monthly pass. It will save me some money in the long run.

Emily: That's a smart choice. Plus, it will be more eco-friendly than driving our cars everywhere.

Claire: Definitely. I'm glad they're expanding public transportation options in our area.

Emily: Me too. It will also reduce traffic congestion and parking problems.

Claire: Absolutely. We should spread the word about this new bus service to our neighbors.

Emily: I agree. Let's tell everyone about it and encourage them to give it a try.

Claire: I'm sure they'll appreciate the information. Taking the bus will make their lives easier too.

Emily: It's a win-win situation for everyone. I can't wait to start using the bus next week.

Claire: Same here. This new service will make our daily commutes much more pleasant.

Dialogue 3

Context: Taking The Bus

George: Hey Leo, our flight is in a few hours. How should we get to the airport?

Leo: Let's take a bus! I heard it's a convenient way to travel. When does the bus leave?

George: The bus leaves at 9 a.m. from the central station. We should be there on time.

Leo: What time should we arrive at the station?

George: We should leave our hotel at 8 a.m. to make sure we have enough time to catch the bus.

Leo: Great! What is the bus fare?

George: It's $10 per person. We should bring enough cash for both of us.

Leo: That's affordable. How long does the bus ride take?

George: The journey to the airport takes approximately 45 minutes, depending on the traffic.

Leo: Do we need to buy tickets in advance?

George: No, we can purchase the tickets directly from the bus driver before boarding.

Leo: Will there be enough space for our luggage?

George: Yes, the bus has a designated area for luggage, so we can bring our suitcases with us.

Leo: What if we miss the bus?

George: Don't worry. There is another bus that departs every hour, so we'll have another chance to catch it.

Leo: That's a relief. I hope we don't get stuck in traffic.

George: Me too, but even if we encounter traffic, we still have enough time before our flight.

Leo: Will the bus driver announce the airport stop?

George: Yes, they usually announce the stops, so we'll know when to get off.

Leo: After we arrive at the airport, what should we do?

George: We'll head to the check-in counter to get our boarding passes and drop off our luggage.

Leo: And then we can go through security and find our gate, right?

George: Exactly. Once we're through security, we can relax and wait for our flight to be called.

Leo: I can't wait to explore our destination! This trip is going to be amazing.

George: I agree. Let's make sure we have everything we need and be ready for our bus journey to the airport.

Leo: Absolutely. I'll double-check our passports and travel documents before we leave the hotel.

George: That sounds like a plan. Let's get prepared and have a smooth trip to the airport.
